Week 3 Graded Worksheet

Worksheet Details

You will use this worksheet to record your responses to all activities that require you to do so in the instructions. Each time an activity references this worksheet to record your responses, you must open this copy of your worksheet and add your response in the appropriate section. This specific worksheet will be used for select activity tasks in Week 3.

To complete the assignment, you must follow these steps:

1. Complete this worksheet with the responses from your activity.
2. You'll find that each question has its own submission block where you must put your answers.
3. You must complete all the blocks available under a question. Leaving a block empty will mean the question is not being answered (even if you answer it somewhere else).
4. Make sure you place the correct answer under the right question. Misplaced answers will not be marked.
5. Save and submit this worksheet to Savanna.

Instructions

1. You must fill out this worksheet and submit it as your assignment response.
2. Use tools like Foxit, Adobe Acrobat, or PDFGear to add your responses in the blank spaces provided under a question or set of instructions.
3. Read the instructions and questions carefully before responding.
4. Do not try to edit any part of this worksheet!
5. Save this worksheet using the convention "FirstName_LastName_Worksheet_SE103.pdf".

Week 3

After completing the interview, either listen to the audio recording or read your notes from the interview. From this, write up answers to the following questions in the spaces provided.

Interviewee's name

MR. JULIUS ENI

Time and place of interview

Time: 4:00–4:25 PM
Place: Phone interview (WhatsApp call)

List several statements made by each interviewee. Indicate next to each statement if it is an example of either "growth mindset" or "fixed mindset". List and identify at least 4 statements for each category.

"I didn't pass my first professional exam, but I knew it meant I needed to change how I studied."→ Growth mindset

"When my business finally became profitable, it was because I kept learning from people who were ahead of me."→ Growth mindset

"At first, I felt embarrassed about failing, but later I realized failure is part of the process."→ Growth mindset"

Some people are just naturally good at business, and others aren't."→ Fixed mindset"

Even though I failed before, I believed I could improve if I stayed consistent."→ Growth mindset

Did your interviewee's stories involve grit (or lack of grit)? Explain.

Yes, the interviewee's stories clearly involved grit. He described continuing to study and improve after failing an important professional exam instead of giving up. He also showed perseverance by running his business for several years before it became successful. Despite setbacks, he remained committed to his long-term goals and kept putting in effort, which is a key characteristic of grit.

What surprised you about conducting this interview? What did you learn?

What surprised me most was how openly the interviewee talked about failure and how emotional it was for him at the time. I learned that successful people still experience self-doubt and disappointment, but what separates them from others is how they respond to failure. This interview helped me understand the difference between a growth mindset and a fixed mindset more clearly, and it showed me that grit plays a major role in long-term success.

Once you have completed this worksheet:

1. Save as .pdf.
2. Rename it per the instructions.
3. Upload to Savanna as your Week 3 Graded Worksheet Submission.
4. Celebrate a job well done!
